

Call for Papers

We are pleased to announce the Call for Papers for the Eleventh Global Studies Conference, held 29–30 July 2018 at the University of Granada in Granada, Spain.

Founded in 2008, the conference is held annually in different locations around the world, each selected for its particular place in the dynamics of globalization. Intellectually, the conference takes three steps: the first is a "this-worldly" step, mapping the details and extrapolating to big picture analyses in order to interpret what is at times challenging, dangerous, and excitingly positive about the "New Globalization." The second step is to set this New Globalization in the context of earlier globalizations—what are the continuities, and what is genuinely new? The third step is to re-examine and redefine the very concept of globalization—in theoretical, anthropological, and philosophical terms. The conference works between the most fastidiously empirical and profoundly generalizing modes of engagement with one of the central phenomena of our contemporary existence.

We invite proposals for paper presentations, workshops/interactive sessions, posters/exhibits, colloquia, virtual posters, or virtual lightning talks. The conference features research addressing the annual themes and the 2018 Special Focus: "Subjectivities of Globalization."

For more information regarding the conference, use the links below to explore our conference website.

Call for Papers	Themes
Presentation Types	Scope & Concerns
List of Accepted Proposals	Conference History
Submit a Proposal

Submit your proposal by 29 July 2017.

We welcome the submission of proposals to the conference at any time of the year before the final submission deadline. All proposals will be reviewed within two to four weeks of submission.

Conference Partner

We are honored to have the University of Granada as our conference partner.

Forward This Call for Papers

Manage Your Email Preferences
