

2 PhD positions for Marie Skłodowska-Curie European Training Network on explaining global India

Call for 2 PhD students (Early Stage Researchers) to develop the PhD at the Institut Barcelona d'Estudis Internacionals (IBEI) in collaboration with the Universitat Pompeu Fabra and Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona, involved in the Marie S. Curie European Training Network project H2020-MSCA-ITN-ETN-2016 "Explaining Global India: a multi-sectoral PhD training programme analysing the emergence of India as a global actor" (Global India).

The Institut Barcelona d'Estudis Internacionals (IBEI) invites applications for Early Stage Researcher (ESR) positions in the Marie S. Curie European Training Network Global India. The successful candidates will be employed by IBEI and will enrol on a PhD training programme as a mandatory requirement. One of the candidates will enrol in the Universitat Pompeu Fabra PhD programme under the supervision of Prof. Jacint Jordana. The other one will enrol in the Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona PhD programme under the supervision of the Prof. Esther Barbé.

The Institut Barcelona d'Estudis Internacionals is a graduate teaching and research institution created by five universities in Barcelona (the University of Barcelona, the Autonomous University of Barcelona, Pompeu Fabra University, the Open University of Catalonia, and the Technical University of Catalonia). It supports research in the fields of international political economy, international relations, international security, foreign policy and comparative politics. IBEI is an equal opportunities employer. Further information about IBEI and its Master's programmes can be obtained at <http://www.ibeio.org>

Explaining Global India: a multi-sectoral PhD training programme analysing the emergence of India as a global actor (Global India)

The GLOBAL INDIA ETN will deliver a world-class multi-sectoral doctoral training programme focused on India's emergence as a global and regional power, and its relationship with the EU. The European Training Network is a multidisciplinary, multi-sectoral network bringing together six leading European universities, with six leading Indian universities, and six non-university partners. The network will train 15 Early Career Researchers, focusing on both academic excellence and professional, transferable, skills. All researchers will spend a semester in an Indian University and have a work placement in one of the non-university partners. In the four years of the programme there will be 10 network events in both Europe and India.

Network Members

- Full Academic Partners: Dublin City University (Ireland), Institut Barcelona d'Estudis Internacionals (Spain), King's College London (UK), KU-Leuven (Belgium), University of Heidelberg (Germany), University of Warsaw (Poland).
- Indian University Partners: Banaras Hindu University Varanasi, Calcutta University, Jamia Millia Islamia University, Jawaharlal Nehru University, Mumbai University, Jadavpur University Kolkatta.
- Non University Partners: DSC Kimmage (Think Tank, Dublin), PVCHR (Human Rights NGO, Varanasi), NIIT (Commercial Enterprise, Dublin), Observer Research Foundation (Think Tank, New Delhi), Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry (UK), South Asia Democratic Forum (Think Tank, Brussels).

Available positions at IBEI

Fellow	ESR1
Host institution	IBEI (UPF PhD Program)
Duration	36 months
Start date	October 2017
Project title	The diffusion of regulatory governance in India
Supervisor	Prof. Jacint Jordana (IBEI-UPF)
Objectives	Analyses the shift in regulatory governance of the economy in India under the influence of international policy diffusion and the impacts of those changes. The changing regulatory framework has implications for economic and trade relations with the EU.

Fellow	ESR2
Host institution	IBEI (UAB PhD Program)
Duration	36 months
Start date	October 2017
Project title	The making of EU foreign policy towards India
Supervisor	Prof. Esther Barbé (IBEI-UAB)
Objectives	This project provides a temporal analysis of key decisions in EU policy making towards India, identifying the dominant actors and their relative success in influencing policy outcomes. It discusses how important India is in EU strategic thinking and what shapes perception of India.

Benefits

Marie Skłodowska-Curie Fellows enjoy a full time 3 year contract with benefits of full social security, very competitive monthly living, mobility and family allowance.

The program provides an excellent opportunity for students to participate in network-wide training and develop a wide set of research focused and transferable skills at different locations throughout Europe and India, with leading scientists in the field, including secondments in an Indian University and have a work placement in one of the non-university partners.

Requirements

We are looking for motivated researchers with a Master's degree in International Relations/Political Science/Public Policy or equivalent (early stage researcher) with excellent empirical and theoretical skills as well as good team spirit.

ESR recruitment is also subject to the mobility rule. The applicant may be a national of a Member State, of an Associated Country or of any other third country. Also, the applicant must not have resided or carried out his/her main activity (work, studies, etc.) in Spain for more than 12 months in the 3 years immediately prior to his/her recruitment. Short stays (e.g. holidays) are not taken into account. Applicants who have obtained a doctorate or had more than 4 years full time research experience are ineligible. The ESR will ideally commence PhD enrolment / employment in October 2017.

Selection Process – Deadline extended

Applications must be submitted by June 6, 2017. Applicants should send A SINGLE PDF file including: a letter of application, a detailed CV, a project proposal based on one of the topics, and the names and contact details of 3 referees who can comment on the applicants' capabilities and abilities.

For a more information, please contact Prof. Jacint Jordana (ESR1) or Prof. Esther Barbe (ESR2)

Application email: csanchez@ibei.org, indicating the fellow reference in the subject.